

UNEVEN FLOW OF IMMIGRATION

Of Latino youths younger than 18 residing in the United States, fewer than 10 percent were born in another country. The percentage of young Latinos who are immigrants varies from state to state, with a high of 17 percent in Alabama and a low of 1 percent in Montana. Southeastern states have relatively large concentrations of non-native young Latinos.

Percent of Young Latino Population Born Outside U.S.

Percent of Children Under 18 Who Are Latino

SOURCE: EPE Research Center, 2012.
Analysis of data from the American Community Survey (2008-2010), U.S. Census Bureau