

Going Shopping

In an online survey, superintendents gave the following responses when asked what projects their districts would pay for with money from the federal stimulus legislation.

