

K12 INC. STOCK PLUMMETS

The value of the virtual education company's stock rose steadily for almost a year before taking a nose dive this month. Some analysts predict continued problems for the country's largest for-profit provider of K-12 virtual education while others paint a more positive outlook for the company's future growth.

SOURCE: NASDAQ