

New Department of Education Structure

This is the new departmental structure planned by Secretary of Education Margaret Spellings. The reorganization creates two new offices and adjusts the lines of authority in several respects.

New office and assistant secretary positions